EXHIBITOR QUALIFICATION PROCESS

The purpose of the UNITE Annual Technology Exposition is to expose UNITE delegates to products and services that promote the continuing use of Unisys computer systems and operating environments. In order to adhere to this purpose and pursuant to paragraphs 18 and 20 of the UNITE Exhibitor Rules and Regulations, UNITE reserves the right to review the qualifications of all Exhibit applicants to participate in the exposition.

A. Qualification of New Exhibitors

New Exhibitors (those who have not exhibited at a previous UNITE Exposition within the past 2 years) must provide a description of the products and services to be exhibited and samples of the marketing materials for those products and services to support their Exhibit Application.

The products and services offered must, in the opinion of UNITE:

1. Deliver a business service or business problem solution that primarily operates on Unisys platforms and in Unisys operating environments and supports the continuing use of those platforms and operating environments; or
2. Support, enhance, or improve the usefulness, efficiency, and effectiveness of users' Unisys platforms, operating environments, or services; or
3. Improve the integration of Unisys platforms or operating environments with other information technology environments.

B. Periodic Review of Current Exhibitors

UNITE will periodically review the company profile and marketing and sales materials of current exhibitors (those vendors who have exhibited within the past two years) and may request updated descriptions and updated marketing and sales materials of the products and services that will be exhibited at an exposition.

C. Acceptance of Exhibit Application and Contract

Exhibit applicants will be notified of UNITE acceptance within 30 days of submission of a properly completed application, all supporting materials, and payment of any required application fees. UNITE reserves the right to request additional clarification of product and services descriptions and of applicant marketing and sales materials. Said materials include those published in hardcopy, electronic or any other form.

Determination of UNITE acceptance of an Exhibit Application and Contract will be made by the Director – Display Room (DDR).

D. Revocation of Previously Accepted Exhibit Applications

Applications, including supporting materials, will be evaluated on their face. UNITE reserves the right to reconsider and revoke a previously accepted application based on review by the DDR or the Board of Directors.

E. Appeal Process

Applicants whose Exhibit Application and Contract is rejected or revoked may request a review by the Director – Display Room. The DDR will respond in writing within two weeks, accepting the application, rejecting it, or forwarding it to the Board of Directors for final determination.

Applicants may appeal the decision of the DDR to the Board of Directors who will act on the appeal within 30 days of receipt of any supporting information and materials requested by the Board for examination. The disposition of the application by the Board is final and no further appeal is available.
